Nilan Johnson Lewis is a recognized leader in serving as corporate counsel to business entities. We advise clients on appropriate corporate structure and reorganizations, business combinations, and raising capital through the issuance of equity. We also advise socially conscious clients on making affirmative elections in corporate documents concerning commitments to their social purpose. Sometimes, co-owners of a business come to a disagreement. We regularly counsel clients through resolving shareholder and member disputes and corporate succession. Our services include:

- General corporate and nonprofit governance advice
- Counseling regarding joint ventures, business acquisitions, and mergers
- Corporate finance and capital raising
- Divestitures and spinoffs of divisions or subsidiaries
- Drafting of compliance policies and procedures, including HIPAA compliance
- Drafting or reviewing member control, buy-sell, and operating agreements for closely held businesses
- Advice concerning public benefit corporations and registration with B-Labs
- Advice concerning disputes among partners or shareholders
- Advice concerning compensation of executives and key employees
- Equity and incentive plan compensation and communication
- Secured and unsecured revolving and term loans
- Technology transactions and licensing
