Information Security and Privacy Claims

We all live in a world where data breach is almost daily occurrence, and every breach is different. Our lawyers are adept at working with clients in creating pre- and post-breach responses including assessment, damage control, and notification steps. We also work with information security, IT departments and independent investigators to ensure the protection of privileged information and preservation of forensic evidence, and with law enforcement personnel, insurers, and media representatives to ensure that our clients' response to a breach is timely and appropriate under the specific circumstances presented.
