Biography

Mohamed Ibrahim helps clients navigate business disputes, professional and product liability claims, and complex civil matters. He handles civil litigation from discovery through depositions, mediation, and trial preparation, and drafts pleadings, dispositive motions, discovery requests, and settlement agreements. He also develops case strategy through legal research, factual investigation, witness preparation, expert coordination, and ongoing client and insurer counseling.

While in law school, Mohamed gained courtroom experience as a member of the University of St. Thomas School of Law's trial advocacy team, competing three times—twice in the American Association for Justice Student Trial Advocacy Competition and once in the Midwest Constance Baker Motley Mock Trial Competition.

Before law school, he was a senior program coordinator at a leading academic medical center, where he co-authored an article published in the American Journal of Clinical Pathology.

Mohamed and his wife, Mulki, keep busy with their young daughter. As a family, they enjoy spending time with their extended family in southern Minnesota, where Mohamed was raised. An avid sports enthusiast, Mohamed enjoys traveling, following the English Premier League, and cheering on the New York Knicks.
